Play: so what do children learn? Investigating imagination, analysing symbolic play

This discussion workshop will explore data gathered from two nursery settings, during the first phase of doctoral research.

The discussion will consider the pedagogical implications from the research findings.